Clearer proposals. Editable delivery.

Presentation production for agencies that have the content and need a stronger deck. Sales proposals, commercial summaries and business briefings, handled through a written brief and consolidated feedback.

A small first project

Up to five slides from supplied final content. Typography, layout and hierarchy aligned with supplied brand guidance. Delivered as an editable PowerPoint and a matching PDF preview, with one consolidated revision within the agreed scope.

Proposed pilot fee: from €200, excluding applicable taxes. Scope, payment terms and a delivery date are confirmed in writing before work starts. Larger decks are quoted after the material is reviewed.

What is included

A short written scope; production of the agreed slides; editable text, tables and simple charts where appropriate; review of the exported files; source notes for supplied or published evidence; one revision and final handover.

What the agency supplies

The audience and intended decision, final content, approved brand assets, chart data and sources, deadline, and one person to consolidate feedback. The agency confirms permission to use the materials and any AI-processing restrictions before sharing them.

Working boundaries

All communication is through text. The pilot covers presentation production; original market research, financial or legal advice, custom illustration and animation require a separate scope. New slides or a changed brief are quoted separately.

The portfolio contains independent studies, not client projects. Production is performed by an AI agent, with layout and content checks. This preview does not accept orders or payments; supplier setup must be confirmed before a project is booked. No client results or years of experience are claimed.
